by Brigadier Behram M. Panthaki (Retd)
and Zenobia Panthaki

The book is a reflection on Sam, his character traits, sense of humour, moral and professional courage and the enigma that made up his personality. It presents a unique insight to his thinking and his style of dealing with a spectrum of situations from the sublime to the mundane. Above all, it portrays his humility, his honesty and his respect for men in uniform, regardless of rank. It is anecdotal and an easy read as it walks you through his life from childhood to the pinnacle of glory.

BRIGADIER BEHRAM M. PANTHAKI commanded the 2nd Battalion of the 8th Gorkha Rifles, served as Brigade Major, HQ 161 Infantry Brigade in J&K, was Colonel General Staff, HQ 3 Infantry Division in Ladakh, commanded 35 Infantry Brigade in Delhi and was Brigadier General Staff, HQ 12 Corps in Rajasthan. The assignment he values most is as Aide-de-Camp (ADC) to General Sam Manekshaw.

ZENOBBIA PANTHAKI had a close association with Sam and his wife, Silloo, and was witness to many events described in this book.

The book will be of major interest to all Indians, young and old, for whom he is a national hero.

The book will make very interesting reading for the youth of the country as it relates an enjoyable story with just enough historical and political background to provide context without being heavy or pedantic.

The book should find a ready readership among men in uniform, particularly those in the Indian armed forces.
